ALL ABOUT A TITLE.

Colonel Sidney Dell Objects to Quotations and Challenges the Editor —Blood Upon the Moon.

The following communication is self-explanatory. A proper caution impels us to make this public declaration to the effect that Colonel Sidney Dell is a colonel without any quotation marks, ear marks, strawberry marks or any other outward and visible adornments. As far as the challenge is concerned, a proper regard for our health, our family, our creditors and the welfare of the world at large, all of which weighs very heavily upon us—impels us to decline. We might win out in a foot race, but—well, here is the cartel:

"Col." Sherer,
"Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

"Your dubbing me a "Col.," with quotations in last issue, implies that I am an impostor—a bogus claimant of an undeserved rank. The charge is unkind, unjust and—untrue. I did not claim the title. It was your own creation; and you, yourself, cast reproach upon me for your own act.

"Our esteemed fellow townsman, Col. L. R. Hurtt (no quotations) was, like myself, a soldier in his youth. He was a gallant soldier of the Union, while I was a soldier for the 'Lost Cause.' His friends dub him with the title of colonel, to which he good-naturedly submits, though not to that rank. How very uncivil would it be for them to cast reproach upon his character in this community by publishing him as 'Col.,' with quotations, a bogus claimant of an undeserved title. Do you see the parallel? I beg to warn you that a repetition means a fight or a footrace; and I guess I can outrun you. True, I was badly licked in the olden time. But I have been truly reconstructed, and now realize that our defeat was the grandest benefit to human liberty and to all Americans, as I had the honor a few years ago to say in a patriotic oration on May 30.

"I repeat my warning, Be Wary. Perhaps, though, it was 'the fault of the proofreader,' as usual.

"SIDNEY DELL."

Miss Emma Williams entertained the Dominant Club, a musical organization of Los Angeles, Sunday, at her home in the Glendale foothills. A very interesting program of music was presented by the various members, after which refreshments and merry talk finished the afternoon.

CALIFORNIA COMES TO SEATTLE.

By Isabel H. Raymond.

California has come to Seattle, and Seattle, with all the Northwest, is holding out both hands in greeting to the Golden Blossom State. The entente cordiale between Washington and California has been already strengthened by the closer communion promoted by the exposition; this good feeling is shown in the press as well as socially and commercially among the people; it is safe to say that the close of the exposition will see a definite movement toward that fellowship which has been characterized—perhaps rather sentimentally as the "United Pacific States."

Out at the exposition grounds stands a beautiful and commodious building, its cream white walls rising to their crown of dull red Spanish tiling; its ornamentation and general plan recalling Spanish and early California architecture; its windows looking out far over Lake Washington to the grandeur of Mt. Rainier, and the beauty of the Cascade Range, and its broad front terrace and entrance porch a few yards aside from the soon-to-be-thronged thoroughfare of Rainier Vista. The exact location of the California building, according to the arrangement and nomenclature adopted at the Exposition Site, is on a triangular plat facing Pacific, Palouse and Seward avenues, with flowerful "Dome Circle" at the apex. Its nearest neighbor is the unique and wonderful Forestry Building and one of the border avenues leads straight away to the big "Natural Amphitheater," and the border of Lake Washington. Several of the graceful native fir trees have been left on the plat and by June 1st the fine terraces surrounding the building will be thickly blated with choicest California shrubs, transplanted from their native soil, to delight the eye for the whole Seattle summer. This has been arranged under Mr. George C. Roeding, the well-known horticulturist.

This building is the largest of the state buildings and was the first to be finished, and by the middle of April, exhibits began to arrive and the interior arrangement was under way. As this year's display is strictly a state exhibit, Governor Gillett, by virtue of his office, was constituted sole commissioner. He called to his assistance those veteran expositioners, J. A. Filcher of Sacramento, and Frank Wiggin of Los Angeles, who have worked together for California's exploitation at more than one important event. To Mr. Wiggin's credit are eight large expositions, Chicago, Mid-Winter of California, Omaha, Atlanta, Buffalo, Portland, St. Louis and Jamestown, while Mr. Filcher's record goes farther afield, as he was in charge of California's departments at Hamburg and at Paris, besides St. Louis, Buffalo and Portland. With such an experience and with their able secretary, Mr. George A. Dennison, of San Francisco, who has a record of three expositions, it may well be supposed that fine teamwork has been done, and that all will be found in beautiful and attractive order on opening day.

PROMINENT GLENDALE LADY RETURNS HOME.

Mrs. W. G. Tight, formerly Mrs. Mabel L. Hachman, returned to Glendale the early part of this week, after an absence of several months. Since leaving Glendale Mrs. Tight has visited several of the cities of the Atlantic Coast, spending considerable time in the city of Washington, where she and her husband were entertained by Secretary Garfield, who is a personal friend of Mr. Tight's. Mrs. Tight, always an enthusiast upon the subject of Glendale, declares that in her case "absence makes the heart grow fonder," and after seeing more of the rest of the world she returns here every time better satisfied than ever with her California home. Mr. Tight, who is president of the University of New Mexico, at Albuquerque, and a geologist of national reputation, will join his wife in Glendale as soon as it is possible to leave his post of duty.

Annual Meeting

The Bank of Glendale held its regular annual meeting of stockholders on Tuesday of this week. The usual four per cent semi-annual dividend was declared and good additions made to the surplus and undivided profits. The board of directors remains the same except in the addition of Thos. F. Cooke, of The Traders Bank of Los Angeles, in place of Lester Vesper. Beginning with June 1st, this bank will close Saturday afternoons.

The Pacific Electric Company had a gang of men at work for a day or two during the past week clearing the right of way along Brand Boulevard of accumulated weeds. A good job was made of it, adding much to the attractive appearance of the street.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Methodist church. This will be a mothers' meeting with program suitable for the occasion, and will be in charge of Mrs. Musser, superintendent of that department.

Mrs. Albert Cornelius Anderson, of Cedar street, entertained Thursday afternoon in honor of her mother who recently married Dr. W. G. Tight, president of the University of New Mexico, and is also territorial geologist, and who is at present in Mexico inspecting mines. He expects to arrive in Glendale in two weeks.

"The Village Postoffice" will be in full operation next Saturday evening. You can't forget it.

Mr. R. T. Blow called at the NEWS office the past week. Mr. Blow retired about a year ago from service with Wells Fargos' express company after having been in the employment of that concern for 27 years. He is now on the pension list of that corporation which is one of the most liberal companies towards its employes of which we have any knowledge.

Services as usual at the Baptist church Sunday both morning and evening. It is not certain when the pastor will return, having been in Northern California at the bedside of a sick brother for the past two weeks. The Chorus Choir is doing good work under the leadership of Mr. Taylor, growing in numbers and efficiency each service.

The Presbyterians will have a meeting of the church and congregation at the Guild Hall, Third and Jackson streets, on Thursday, May 20th. Supper will be served at 6:30. It is desired that every member of the congregation as well as the church be present. This meeting has been called to consider the enlarging of the appliances for the Sunday school and church work.

Remember the "Village Postoffice" will open in Glendale on the evening the 22d.

The grocery business of Brewster and Haviland at the Woods Grocery, has passed into the hands of the Los Angeles Board of Trade and is now being run by a receiver appointed by that body. Business has been good with this firm but slow collections and other unfortunate combinations of circumstances have caused trouble. Messrs. Brewster and Haviland by their straightforward dealing and liberality have made a great many friends in the community who regret their financial troubles and do not by any means regard them as reflecting in any way upon the personal character of those gentlemen. Mr. Brewster will continue to run the hotel which is doing a good business. Mr. Haviland will probably engage in business in Los Angeles for the present.

FAME FOR A LOCAL CELEBRITY.

Our friend and former fellow townsman, R. G. (Odyllic) Doyle, has achieved fame. Teh following is from the New York Sun:

ADMIRAL EVANS'S MIRACLE.

Able to Wiggle Great Toe After Healer Had Applied Hands and Chanted.

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—Read Admiral Robley D. Evans was able last night for the first time in two years to wiggle the great toe on his left foot.

This, it is said, was the result of the treatment given the Admiral by R. G. Doyle, a Los Angeles real estate dealer, who claims to have the power to heal all human ailments by placing his hands on the body of the afflicted one and chanting a few words known only to himself.

The treatment lasted one hour, no medicine being used, and at the end of that time Admiral Evans was able to walk without his crutches. For years he has not been able to move the thumb on his right hand but after the treatment he manipulated that digit with ease.

GLENDALE HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA HONORED.

The Glendale orchestra of the Union High school was honored in furnishing music for the notable gathering of ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon Club on Tuesday afternoon. The club was proud of the young people who are improving in a most gratifying manner under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Anderson.

CONGREGATIONAL SUPPER.

The First Presbyterian church will give a congregational supper May 20th, in Guild hall, for members of the church and congregation and their families. There will be a good old fashioned supper, for which there will be no charge, and a good time is being planned for all. The supper will be at 6:30 sharp.

BLACK APHIS AGAIN.

Mr. Brosmer, inspector for the horticultural department, Los Angeles, called at the NEWS office on Wednesday. He has been examining the trees which were treated under his direction for the extermination of the black aphis in this section, and finds that the fumigation process to which they were subjected appears to have been very effectual, except that a few young ones have appeared since and will require a second treatment. He hopes that action was taken in time to exterminate this pest, which is one of the worst that fruit growers have ever had to deal with. Fortunately it has appeared in a very restricted section, spreading entirely in one direction, so that the work of extermination is quite hopeful. In portions of the northern part of the state the damage done has been immense. In one instance over 100,000 nursery trees were destroyed in the space of a few weeks. The insect does not eat holes in the leaves as do some other pests, but lives entirely upon the sap, and multiplying so rapidly as it does, a tree has not much chance for continued existence when once attacked. A female aphis will turn out seven broods in a year, averaging 2000 or so at a time. The worst injury is done at the roots of the tree upon which they work and create a fungus which soon causes the death of the tree attacked. Our article last week was in error in stating that cyanide is put about the roots, the substance used is bi-sulphide of carbon in liquid form which forms a poisonous gas about the roots and is supposed to act as a discourager of insect life. Apricot and peach trees are as yet the only kinds attacked in this section.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The High School entertainment which was to be given last night was indefinitely postponed. The tickets, however, will be good whenever the entertainment is held.

Saturday, May 8th, the baseball team played the Downey team on the home field. The game started with Downey at bat, but they were unable to make a run. In the second and fourth innings the visitors secured four runs, Glendale having none. In the sixth, Glendale made one run and in the eighth and ninth they brought in three, thus winning by a score of 4-3.

The game was well played throughout and full of interest.

The attendance was good, but the spectators failed to appreciate the game sufficiently to pay the expenses. Ten cents was asked, but some refused to respond. As a result of their coming as guests the pupils went down into their pockets to make up the difference. Come again, but bring a dime.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Interest continues in the revival services and meetings will be held during the coming week. Prof. Stout will continue to sing at every service. The Sermon of Song last Sunday evening was a wonderful success, the house being filled with an audience that enjoyed to the utmost the program offered, which was especially adapted to Mothers' Day, the themes being "Mother, Home and Heaven." At 3 o'clock tomorrow (Sunday) Prof. Stout will give another song service entitled "A Prodigal Son," to which everybody is invited.

THE SCHOOL CENSUS.

Thanks to the courtesy of Mr. John Grieve, Census Marshal for this school district, we are able herewith to give the result of his count of the children. Total number of children between ages of 5 and 17, 463. Of this number 263 are boys and 200 girls. Two of the number are negro children. Number of children under five years of age, 169. Of this number six are Mongolians.

Total number of all children, 632, of whom only three are foreign born.

The Glendale Grammar school district comprises the City of Glendale and some territory to the north of the city in the neighborhood of Casa Verdugo, principally.

WEST GLENDALE SCHOOL CENSUS

The count of the children in the West Glendale school district discloses the fact that there are 176 between the ages of five and seventeen. This indicates a phenomenal growth for that district. Last year there were only two teachers employed there, now there are four, and it is said that at the present time there are ten new houses being erected in the district.

RECIPROCITY DAY

Tuesday Afternoon Club's Brilliant and Successful Affair—Distinguished Visitors Present

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Under sunshiny skies and amid gorgeous flowers the brilliant assemblage of club women at the pretty new opera house on last Tuesday marked another gala day in the history of our woman's club.

With the representation of fourteen different clubs the afternoon was all too short in which to absorb all the helpful, wise and witty things that each club had to offer. After a short business session, our president, Mrs. Pack, in her own happy way welcomed the various clubs to Glendale and to the club, in a sparkling address, which was warmly responded to by the district chairman on civics, Mrs. Dr. Davidson. Mrs. Du Prey of San Pedro, district chairman of reciprocity, who with Mrs. Dr. Davidson represented the district federation board, also responded.

Following these ladies were short addresses by Mrs. Gould of the Ebell club, Los Angels; Mrs. Richie of the Crescent Bay Woman's club of Santa Monica; Mrs. Chas. Young, 20th Century club, Eagle Rock; Philomath club, represented by Mrs. E. W. Davies; Wednesday Afternoon Club, Alhambra, by Mrs. Geo. P. Hanley; Wednesday Morning Club, Los Angeles, by Mrs. Frank Prior.

Mrs. Collins, the president of our sister club, the Thursday Afternoon Club of Tropico, concisely and entertainingly delineated the work they have done during the year. Mrs. J. M. Whitsel of the Covina Monday Afternoon Club announced that among other entertainments their club had given a baby show, and this immediately brought forth a laughable commentory on baby shows from a lady whose club evidently had had at some time an unfortunate experience along that line.

Mrs. Webb talked for the Galpin Shakespeare club; Mrs. A. M. Grant for the Highland Park Ebell. The Saturday Afternoon Club of Monrovia and the Friday Morning Club of Los Angeles also sent representatives.

A letter was received from the state chairman of Reciprocity, stating that owing to illness in her family she was unable to be present. Owing to the increased membership in the Tuesday Afternoon Club this year invitations were necessarily limited to the representatives of the various clubs invited and those individuals to whom courtesies were due, which included a large number from Los Angeles.

Our honorary member, Capt. Wells, was present and kindly responded to a request for a few words.

Miss Ina Whittaker and the P. E. O. quartet furnished delightful musical numbers and Miss Christin of Los Angeles was secured for the special musical feature; her singing was greatly enjoyed. Through the courtesy of the leader of the High School orchestra Mrs. Anderson, these young people furnished lively music during the refreshment and social hour.

Mrs. Blackburn, chairman of Reciprocity day, together with her capable committee: Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. A. D. Goode, Mrs. Dr. Hunt and Mrs. A. C. McIntyre, deserves great credit and hearty praise for the success of the afternoon.

Especial mention must be made of the flower committee, of which Mrs. Pitcher is chairman and which so truly transformed the rooms into such bowers of beauty. This was only one of many pleasant and profitable days of our club year, of which our delegate, Mrs. L. C. Rice, will have to tell at the State Federation of Woman's clubs at Del Monte this summer.

Resolution.

Resolved, That we, members of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club in regular session assembled, this 11th day of May, 1909, express to the Glendale Board of Trade our sincere appreciation of their actions in constituting the members of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club honorary members of the Glendale Board of Trade, and assure them of our hearty co-operation with them whenever possible along all lines of improvement.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. MARK'S.

The bishop of Los Angeles, Rt. Rev. J. H. Johnson, D. D., will be at St. Mark's church, on Sunday morning for his annual visitation of the parish and to administer the scriptural rite of confirmation. Five young persons comprise the class to be confirmed. The public is cordially invited to this service, especially any who may never have witnessed a service of this kind. Bishop Johnson will also preach:

Hollywood is having trouble over the water question and a probability of increased rates. The minimum monthly charge is $1.60, and it is claimed by the company that at that rate they only get six per cent on the investment.

A jury in New York City has found Captain Haines guilty of the murder of Annis whom he shot last summer. It is encouraging to hear occasionally of a jury that is unwilling to turn a murderer loose on account of an "unwritten law," or on the plea of "temporary insanity." With Thaw and Annis both receiving punishment for their murderous acts, the old Empire state may still with justice claim the right to be considered a law-abiding and law-fearing commonwealth.

The death by her own premeditated act of a promising young woman of Tropico, is inexpressibly sad and unaccountable. Apparently she was on the threshold of a useful life with every reason as far as others could discover, why she should cling to life for the promise of its achievement and all the glamor that is usually thrown around it during youth. The daily papers have given all the details that it is necessary for the public to know and we only care to express for the bereaved parents and friends our sincerest sympathy.

APPRECIATED COMMENT.

The Glendale News celebrated its fourth anniversary last week. During the last two years the paper has been under the management of J. C. Sherer and has kept pace with the growth and development of the community which it so ably represents. The News is well edited and enters upon its fifth year with every prospect of continued success.—South Pasadena Record.

With its last issue the Glendale News closed the fourth year of its existence. We congratulate Brother Sherer on the very able paper he is giving his readers and he is deserving of much praise for his part in the development of that favored section. We wish him all the success possible.—San Fernando Press.

Old John Belt is dead. He kept the dog kennel near the arroyo and San Fernando Road. He was an ancient negro of picturesque aspect and the real thing in darkness. John had many points, and now that he has passed away it is permissible to say that they were all good ones. He was a skillful workman at his trade, that of plasterer, but he preferred to eke out a precarious existence by means that varied from dog raising to gathering cold victuals at the county jail and elsewhere. He is said to have had a romantic career, but probably the most of it that he served up to reporters from time to time, grew out of his exuberant fancy, for the great deeds that John performed grew and multiplied with the telling. Peace to his ashes of ebony—he has passed the color line in safety.

FOUND AT LAST.

News comes from the African wilds that ex-President Roosevelt has captured an unknown animal. No details are given, but we have no doubt but that the creature will prove to be a specimen of the Hypompenusus, the existence of which has long been doubted. Not since Munchausen chased them through the Indian forests when the guest of Tippoo Saib, has a single specimen ever been seen by a civilized being who lived to tell the tale. The hypomp, is supposed to be a blood relation of the gyasticutus and the chingopompus and if Mr. Roosevelt has bagged one, it will make all the rest of his laurels look as limp as a paper collar after a fourth of July picnic. We prophecy that Teddy will turn Africa inside out and hang it up on the equator to dry before he gets through with the dark continent.

Mr. H. E. Huntington is expected to return in a short time to Los Angeles and there are great expectations in certain quarters in regard to what he may do. Among other things it is rumored that he will retire from the management of the Pacific Electric company. If he does this it will probably be a serious blow to those who are interested in this company, particularly so in regard to its patrons. Mr. Huntington has taken a proper pride in the development of this system and the result is shown in the fact that it is today one of the best equipped and best managed electric railroads in the United States. It is to be hoped, however, that Mr. Huntington will not become so inamored of his palatial home and princely estate at Oak Knoll as to leave the field of eelctric railway development in this section altogether to others.

A JOURNALISTIC FRAUD.

There came until recently to the office of this paper, three copies of the "Appeal to Reason," the Socialistic sheet published at Girard, Kansas. There was a slight variation in the address of the different copies, a variation just sufficient to enable that concern to count them as three subscriptions upon its list, which the public is falsely informed in every issue, numbers something over a quarter million subscribers. A number of other citizens of Glendale, who never subscribed for it, receive copies of the paper. The object of the free distribution of this bilious sheet, is to enable its publishers to claim a circulation which it does not possess in any honest sense of the word.

Possibly the "capitalistic press" is not exactly what might be desired by a purist, but in the course of a pretty extensive acquaintance with it we never yet found any other alleged "newspaper" that resorted to such a cheap subterfuge for the purpose of deceiving the people.

All people who know anything worth knowing are aware of defects, deficiencies and wrongs which affect all the relations of society. All whose judgment is worth minding know that reform and improvement are in order and demand attention from all right thinking people. But no one whose judgment is valuable believes that the way to reform lies through anything like a violent revolution. The only danger of that lies in the nervousness, excitability and fear of those who talk about the frightful dangers that confront us. Panic is caused by loss of confidence. They who are afraid invite the calamities they dread. They who want more than they get are of so many kinds and classes that combination among them against organized society would be out of the question, even if they all believed, as they do not, that rebellion would increase their chances of success instead of destroying them. The civil war could not have taken place if the two parties in the quarrel had been scattered throughout the states of the Union instead of being localized, with many causes of strife, of which slavery was only one. —Christian Register.

THE LIGHTING QUESTION.

The city trustees will call an election for June 1st next on the proposition to bond the city to the extent of sixty thousand dollars for the purpose of providing Glendale with an electric lighting system. It is a matter of greatest importance to our city and our people and in the short time intervening there will probably be some lively missionary work done by both sides. The proposition to incur an indebtedness of sixty thousand dollars is a serious one and we should embark in no enterprise requiring this burden to be placed upon our property without due consideration. On the other hand the question of lighting our city is equally serious and we fancy that in regard to the necessity for making some arrangement for doing this, and doing it quickly, there exists very little difference of opinion among our people. The question is now open for discussion and the columns of this paper are at the disposal to a considerable extent of citizens who have ideas for or against the proposition, provided only that they express themselves concisely and in a parliamentary manner.

THE "MIRACLE" PICTURE.

For several weeks past there has been on exhibition in a Los Angeles department store a rather remarkable picture, called "In the Shadow of the Cross." The remarkable feature of the painting is its luminous character when viewed in total darkness, and particularly the dimly outlined shadow of a cross behind the figure of Jesus, which is entirely invisible when exposed to light rays. To us, the most remarkable thing in regard to the exhibition is that it should be made under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. While the exhibitors are careful (particularly so of late) to disclaim anything supernatural about the painting, yet the story told in connection with it and the literature distributed in which press comments, etc., are given, all tend to convey the impression that here is a really supernatural manifestation, and as such it is certainly regarded by a large number of people. The exhibitors have stated that thousands of artists and chemists have examined it without being able to give any explanation of the phenomenon, and in the "History of the Painting" distributed within the past week, this statement is made, "chemists declaring that there is nothing known to chemistry that will cause the wonderful amount of luminosity that emanates from this picture." Yet the religious work director of the Y. M. C. A. states that the ingredients are known and that there is nothing miraculous about the painting. According to the story told by the exhibitors, two statements convey quite logically the impression of supernatural agency in the painting of the picture; one is to the effect that the artist painted the figure of Jesus as it was revealed in a dream to a friend, and the other is that the artist "had no thought of a cross in connection with the picture," but was astonished at discovering it as he entered the darkened studio at night. It is not surprising that a Los Angeles artist and chemist are said to have produced a picture with precisely similar effects. The great difference is however that they were quite conscious of the performance. Altogether the story told by the exhibitors of the picture is a serious strain upon the probabilities, and the Y. M. C. A. is surprisingly reckless in standing sponsor for it.

A STORY FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Once or twice before we have questioned for a fleeting moment whether San Francisco is in the United States, when we have heard of some outrageous action upon the part of an organized minority of its citizens which suggested surroundings inconsistent with a free country, and the story told in a recent number of the "Argonaut" gives rise again to the query. It seems that a certain benevolently disposed woman established a Boys' Retreat in the foothills, fifty miles south of San Francisco. She purchased a little farm and established a temporary home for boys from the slums of the great city nearby, who would find there a wholesome atmosphere with a larger outlook upon life. She found it difficult to provide funds with which to maintain the home, but she succeeded in doing so. A greater difficulty, however, was encountered in the problem of "help." At times there would be but few boys at the home and again it would be practically overflowing. The assistants she secured had a way of leaving their positions without notice whenever in their opinion the work became too hard. In periods of comparative idleness they were content to do little and receive their pay, but in the stress of heavier service, they faded away and left the mistress of the establishment to bear the burden shorthanded or alone.

Some months ago she was fortunate enough to secure the services of two Japanese, man and wife, who "with a singular appreciation of the work to be done, relieved her of her domestic troubles. When there were few to entertain at the retreat and therefore little to do, they have not fallen into idleness or demoralization; and in periods when there have been many guests they have not been resentful or insolent—now comes the Asiatic Exclusion League, a society made up of foreigners and aliens and operating as an annex to labor unionism in its least remarkable forms, and notifies the good woman who is maintaining this retreat for the inspiration and elevation of poor boys, that she must discharge her Japanese helpers." The result of the league's interference has not yet been learned, but the "Argonaut" expresses the hope that the lady will stand upon her rights and defy the disturbers of her peace, believing that she will win the approval of the public and so command a larger measure of support for her work. In this wish every good citizen whose attention is called to the matter, must concur. No community can afford to uphold such a rank case of un-American tyranny and it is to be hoped that sufficient publicity will be given to the case to hoist the Asiatic Exclusion League by its own petard. We have confidence in the good American spirit of a very large majority of the people of San Francisco and believe that they will support that able and fearless journal, the "Argonaut," in its fight against the vicious element in that city that has no proper conception of the high privileges of American citizenship.

Glendale, Cal., May 13, 1909.

Editor News,

Dear Sir: At a meeting of the Glendale board of trustees on Wednesday evening last, an ordinance calling for an election on June 1, 1909, for the purpose of voting bonds in the sum of $60,000 for municipal lighting purposes was passed to its third reading. Third reading and final passage of this ordinance will be taken up at the board's next regular meeting on Wednesday evening, May 19, 1909.

There seems to be many strange features connected with the passage of this ordinance, chief among which are lack of details of the plans of the board in purchasing the necessary materials for installing the plant and if the board has an estimate of the cost of the plant it would seem but fair that the estimate would be placed on file in the city hall and open for inspection by property owners.

The ordinance sets the rate of interest for the bonds at six per cent when any bond syndicate would purchase the bonds at 5 per cent. The only reason apparent in the high rate of interest is the fact that the board will be able to get a larger premium for the bonds, which will give them more money, possibly an excess of $12,000, which would give the honorable body $72,000 to spend instead of $60,000. The marketing of the bonds at 6 per cent would mean that the taxpayers would have to pay $3,600 per annum instead of $3,000 if the bonds were to bear 5 per cent interest.

A conservative estimate of the yearly expense of conducting a plant that would give Glendale adequate lights would be something enormous when compared to its greatest possible income. The depreciation on such plants, as experienced by other places in Southern California, averages 10 per cent per annum of the entire system, which would mean for Glendale $6,000 per annum; interest on bonds at 6 per cent would be $3600 per annum; redemption of one bond each year would be $1000; salaries, chief engineer $125 per month, two assistant engineers at $100, helper at $75, bookkeeper and meter reader, $100, electrician, $125, fuel, lubricating oil, etc., $5000 per annum. It is not necessary to enumerate the many incidental expenses of such a system such as extra crews for constructing new lines, accidents, etc., as the expense already shown would total the enormous sum of $23,100 per annum. The gentleman who is furnishing an estimate for the board says that he will reach every house in the city with the electric system and he estimates the total number of houses at 700. Glendale has a population of 2500 people (and right here let it be understood a municipal lighting system cannot sell lights outside the city limits), and if 50 per cent of residents (40 per cent being an average at other places) should subscribe for the lights it would give a grand total of 250 consumers, as there is one family to every five of population. Suppose that the 250 consumers should use on an average of $2.00 a month of lights each per month, this would give the city an income of $500 per month, or $6,000 per annum, leaving the city or property owners with a deficit on hand of $15,900 that could only be made up by street lighting which would be an additional drain on property owners. Members of the board have cited the Anaheim municipal lighting plant as a basis of argument in favor of a municipal plant at Glendale.

Anaheim has a population of 3500 and the district which is being lighted is closely built up, but of the 3500 of population only 376 use the lights. The Anaheim proposition, like all other municipal lighting systems in California, is a failure and this fact is apparent and easily proven.

The following, from a heavy investor in Anaheim property, is taken from the Anaheim Plaindealer, a newspaper, of Saturday April 17, 1909:

"A Few Plain Facts."

"Ed. Plaindealer: What's the matter with Anaheim? Surely none need ask. For the trouble is so plainly written that those who run may read. * * * Property is decreasing in value. Scarcely any inside sales are being made. Is there any wonder that many are leaving and others are afraid to come in? * * * Not long since there was a hue and cry raised by those who had very big and dull axes to grind that we enlarge our city limits. Why, they already include territory enough for a city ten times the size of Anaheim. If it had carried of what use would our water and light power have been? It is not nearly adequate now to our present needs, in fact it is not much more than a dribble and a glimmer. And what have we in our water and light plant but a fancy tank, that leaks, and a lot of inferior machinery, and an outrageous bill of expense? Yes, we have our $75,000 bondage.' * * *

"INVESTOR."

The recent bankrupting of the city of Gilroy, Anaheim's fast approach to the same condition, and Pasadena's fast increasing bonded indebtedness, tax rate and useless and wasteful expenditure of property owners' money on account of municipal ownership, may not be known to Glendale's city trustees and our taxpayers, and it seems that if the trustees are aware of these facts, they do not intend to apprise the general public of them, and this seems strange when it is considered that these bonds, if voted, will be a mortgage on every home in Glendale, a mortgage that cannot be paid off under 30 years.

METHODIST NOTES.

J. F. Humphrey.

Subject, morning sermon, "Pleasing God;" evening, "What Are You Going To Do With It?" This is a special address to young people, it being the 20th anniversary of the Epworth League.

L. E. Brockeman will lead the league service Sunday evening.

Subject for prayer meeting Wednesday evening, "If Christ Should Come."

The numbers and friends of the W. H. M. S. will picnic Tuesday at South Hollywood and visit the Spanish Industrial Home, in which the society is interested.

The district superintendent, Dr. S. A. Thompson, preached last Sunday night and held the third quarterly conference Monday night.

A SUCCESS FROM THE START.

Another branch of Prof. E. S. Warren's System of Mandolin and Guitar schools was successfully instituted by Prof. C. E. Palmer in the studio in the Watson building, corner Fourth and Glendale avenue, on Thursday, May 13th, and from the enrollment it is safe to say it will prove a feature of the musical life of Glendale. On account of delay in shipment, Prof. Warren has extended the offer of a mandolin or guitar absolutely free with a course of lessons for another week. Glendale agent can be found at 420 Glendale avenue, or Sunset Phone 93.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S MASS MEETING.

There was a small turn-out at the mass meeting called for last Saturday night at the High School to instruct the trustees in regard to the sale of the old High School building on the corner of Fourth street and Brand Boulevard. Proceedings were perfunctory and consisted principally in passing a resolution instructing and authorizing the trustees to accept the sum of $13,000 for the building and grounds, and it is probable that a sale will be made at that figure.

STEREOPTICON EXHIBITION AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Will be given at the Odd Fellows' hall, next Friday evening, under the auspices of the Fraternal Brotherhood, to which the public is invited. Admission free.

SOMETHING NEW IN GLENDALE.

The Vacuum Sanitary Cleaning Company had one of their machines at work here several days during the past week. Mr. Messerly, former proprietor of the Miradero Pharmacy, is the proprietor of the machine, which came to Glendale on the solicitation of Mr. Guy Rice and found plenty of work to keep it busy while here. Under the system used by this company, carpets and rugs are cleaned without removal from floors, a long step ahead of the old system.

P. E. O. MEETING.

Chapter L, P. E. O., was entertained by Mrs. Minnie Smith and Miss Bertha Fuller, Monday night, at the home of Mrs. Smith on Everett street. The house was prettily decorated with beautiful roses to welcome the chapter and after the business meeting music was furnished by the P. E. O. quartet. Two numbers, especially, "The Rose and the Moth," and "Little Papoose," received an enthusiastic applause. A dainty collation was served by the hostesses.

THIRD MONDAY MUSICAL.

Members will please notice the departure from the regular custom of sending out invitation cards, but the usual full attendance is desired as the affair is to be of extraordinary excellence. As hostess Mrs. Lillian Dow will be assisted by Mrs. Herbert E. Bartlett, Mrs. Charles Temple, and Mrs. Thomas Thornton.

No Time For Retreat.

In an Irish garrison town a theatrical company was giving performances, and some soldiers from the local barracks were engaged to act as supers. Their duties included the waging of a fierce fight in which, after a stirring struggle, one army was defeated on a given signal from the prompter. For a few nights all went well, but on the Friday evening a special performance of the piece was to be given under the patronage of the colonel and other officers of the garrison. The two armies met as usual at the end of the second act, when they fought and fought and kept on fighting, regardless of the agonized glare in the eye of their (actor) general, who hoarsely ordered the proper army to "Retreat, confound you." But the fight still went on, and soon the horrified manager saw the wrong army being driven slowly off the stage, still fighting desperately. Down came the curtain amid roars of laughter, and the fuming manager hastened to ask the delinquents why they had failed to retreat on hearing the signal.

"Retraite," roared a burly fusileer whose visage had been badly battered, "and is it retraite ye'd have us, wid the colonel and all the officers in the boxes?"—London Scraps.

Mind Your Own Business.

An old custom once prevailed in a remote place in England of giving a clock to any one who would truthfully swear that he had minded his own business alone for a year and a day and had not meddled with his neighbors. Many came, but few, if any, gained the prize, which was more difficult to win than the Dunmow flitch of bacon. Though they swore on the four gospels and held out their hands in certain hope, some hitch was sure to be found somewhere, and for all their asseverations the clock remained stationary on the shelf, no one being able to prove his absolute immunity from uncalled for interference in things not in any way concerning himself. At last a young man came with a perfectly clear record, and the clock seemed as if it was at last about to change owners. Then said the custodian, "Oh, a young man was here yesterday and made mighty sure he was going to have the clock, but he didn't." "And why didn't he get it?" "What's that to you?" snapped the custodian. "That's not your business, and you don't get the clock."

The Chinese Sampans.

In Canton 400,000 people spend their whole existence in boats, which are there called sampans. They are born in them, live in them from infancy to old age and finally die in them. Collectively these boats form a floating suburb to the city proper, one of the most amazing human settlements in the world. Every creek is crammed with them. Along the main banks of the river they are huddled twenty deep—so close together that the covering of mats appears continuous as far as the eye can reach. And each sampan houses a separate family, with its own big brazier lamp, which serves for heating, lighting and cooking the evening meal. The scene when a really serious conflagration once gets a proper hold in the midst of these floating wooden homes may be imagined. Escape is impossible except for those moored at the outermost edge. In one of these conflagrations over a thousand persons lost their lives.

Wanted Her.

"An old couple from the east," says the Detroit Free Press, "are visiting their son in this city. If the mother gets out of sight of the father, he is constantly asking for her and is not content till they are together again. The other evening she went to another part of the house while he was in the parlor and after he had asked for her a half dozen times the son said, rather curtly:

"'It seems as though you couldn't be without mother five minutes at a time.'

"'You're right,' said the old gentleman slowly. 'That's the reason I married her.'"

A Suit of Ratskin.

A thrifty Welshman at one time exhibited himself publicly in England attired in a costume composed from top to bottom of ratskins, which he had spent three years and a half in collecting. The dress was made entirely by himself. It consisted of hat, neckerchief, coat, waistcoat, trousers, tippet, gaiters and shoes. The number of rats required to complete the suit was 570. Most curious of the garments was the tippet, composed entirely of rats' tails.

Worst Place For It.

Small Johnny had been ill for several weeks when one day an aunt from a distance came to visit the family. "Why, Johnny," she exclaimed, "how thin you are! Have you been sick?" "Yes'm," replied the little fellow. "I had the brain fever and right in my head, too, the very worst place I could have had it."

His Secret.

Took Her at Her Word.

"I'll never tell another man I'd rather dance than eat."

"Why not?"

"He kept me waltzing until all the restaurants were closed."—Exchange.

Wherever there is a failure there is some giddiness, some superstition about luck, some step omitted, which nature never pardons.—Emerson.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

May 16, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Paul's First Missionary Journey—Iconium and Lystra. Acts xiv:1-28.

Golden Text—All the gods of the nations are idols; but the Lord made the heavens. Psalm 96:5.

Verses 1-2—Point out on the map in your Bible where Iconium is situated.

Can two missionaries working together do more good than they could working separately?

Has the story of Jesus lost or gained, in its charm upon the multitude, since that day?

Was the unbelief of these Jews a matter of the intellect, through lack of evidence, or was it a matter of the heart; that is, a result of their rebellion against God?

Verses 3-7—How do you account for the fact, that the same evidence, and spirtual demonstration, which made one part of the multitude turn to God with gladness of heart, made the other part angry in heart, and murderous in their actions? (This question is to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Would you judge from this story, that all the good people were on the side of the apostles, and all the bad and dishonest people on the other side?

Will a wise and brave man sometimes run away from such danger as threatened the apostles, or will he always stay and face it?

The apostles fled to Lystra and Derby; where are these places situated?

Verse 8—Is there ever any blame to be attached to those who are born with either physical or moral defects?

Are parents ever to be blamed for either physical or moral defects in their children?

Are pre-natal influences as powerful in shaping a child's destiny as post-natal?

In our present national condition, should the state provide for and maintain all those who are born in an impotent condition?

Verses 9-10—Is faith, like this man had, possible for all, or is it a gift of God, the same as the resultant grace and healing?

Was this a miracle, and whether or not, does God intend to run this world by law or by miracle?

Verses 11-13—What was the idea that these people had of the Deity?

How would it be likely that Barnabas resembled Jupiter, and Paul Mercury to these people?

Is it a trait in human nature to believe in some popular superstition, rather than in the plain truth of God?

Verses 14-15—If a man of God is regarded in some superstitious way, is it his duty to administer a rebuke?

Have the best of men got the same natural passions as the worst of men?

What comfort is there to us in the fact, that God made "the heavens and the earth?"

Verses 16-18—Does God pay the same attention to the crops of the sinner, as he does to the crops of a saint?

Verses 19-20—Was it the same people that stoned Paul, who before this wanted to do sacrifice to him?

Can there be any reliance placed upon the applause of the multitude?

Verses 21-28—What kind of a man is he who, laid out for dead through stoning, starts on his way the next day preaching his story of mercy and love?

Lesson for Sunday, May 23rd, 1909. —The Council at Jerusalem. Acts xv: 1-35.

Dickens' Characters.

Dickens bestowed many of his fictitious names on real flesh and blood personages, says an admirer of the famous novelist. Indeed he and David Copperfield were not far apart, so far as salient features were concerned. Tracy Tupman was the happy counterfeit of a man named Winters, who at the present day would be pounded or arrested for what is known in slang as "mashing." Paul Dombey was an invalid nephew of the author, his right name being Harry Burnett. Dora Copperfield was a Miss Beadwell, with whom Dickens was in love at the early age of eighteen. Mrs. Bardell, who gave Pickwick the worst time in his life, was a scheming boarding house widow named Ann Ellis. Tommy Traddles was Colonel Froom Talfourd, formerly superintendent of Indian affairs in Canada. Miss Mowcher was a Miss Wilkes, Mrs. Skewton a Mrs. Campbell; the abominable Squeers was William Shaw; the lovely Cheeryble brothers were cotton spinners and merchants of Manchester; the fat boy was a true to life character, and so was Captain Cuttle, one of the most attractive of all.

Didn't Impress Him.

Shortly after his rise to the bench Judge Coleman had occasion to pronounce a life sentence upon a notorious offender. In the course of his remarks the judge spoke with so much feeling and eloquence that many of the listeners were deeply affected. The prisoner, on the other hand, seemed to be quite indifferent, looking at the ceiling and apparently giving no attention whatever to what was being said. After he had been remanded to jail one of the young lawyers had gone into the cell, curious to know how the criminal had felt when his honor was passing sentence upon him.

"What do you mean?" asked the convicted one.

"I mean when the judge was telling you you must go to prison for life."

"You mean when he was talking to me?"

"Yes."

"Oh, I never paid no attention to Dick Coleman. He ain't no public speaker nohow!"—Argonaut.

The Fate of the Fancy Set.

James, aged seven, had been promoted. In recognition of this great event his father purchased for him the following things that James insisted were necessary:

A box of one dozen pencils, assorted leads; one ink and one pencil eraser, one pencil box with a marvelous roll top, three copybooks for home work, two penholders and a patent strap that was a marvel of ingenuity, but somehow or other didn't seem to hold the books very firmly.

The father examined the outfit a few days after and found that it contained—

One much chewed lead pencil furnished by the city, a scribbling pad with a few sheets on it, a tin fountain pen that did not work and never could have worked and a skate strap to hold the things together.

The father asked no questions. He instinctively knew what had become of the fancy implements of education. —New York Press.

Her Answer.

An Atchison girl had a proposal of marriage and asked a week to think it over. She went to all of her married sisters. One, who used to be a belle, had three children, did all her own work and hadn't been to the theater or out riding since she was married. Another, whose husband was a promising young man at the time she was married, was supporting him. A third didn't dare say her life was her own when her husband was around, and a fourth was divorced. After visiting them and hearing their woes the heroine of this little tale went home, got pen, ink and paper and wrote an answer to the young man. You may think it was refusing him, but it wasn't. She said she could be ready in a month.—Atchison Globe.

Faith, Hope and Charity.

A London weekly offered 2 guineas for a definition of faith, hope and charity. The winner is as follows: Faith, blind trust in a first page; hope, what investors are fed upon; charity, what some of them are likely to be brought to.

That is certainly not bad, but this one is perhaps even better: Faith, the gift that saves mankind; hope, the gift that cheers mankind; charity, the gift that makes man kind.

The Dear Friends.

"Fred didn't blow his brains out because you jilted him the other night," said girl friend No. 1. "He came over and proposed to me."

"Did he?" replied girl friend No. 2. "Then he must have got rid of them in some other way."

Hindsight.

"I made enough money in Wall street last week to buy a house and lot."

"Did you buy it?"

"Well, no; but I wish I had."—New York Herald.

Why She Did It.

"Why is it," they asked, "that you let your husband have his own way in everything?"

"Because," she replied, "I like to have some one to blame when things go wrong."

Proof.

"I guess their honeymoon is about over."

"What makes you think so?"

"He's quit coming home for his noon lunch."—Detroit Free Press.

Zeal without knowledge is like expedition to a man in the dark.—Newton.

A Doubtful Outlook.

A woman in evident distress was standing at her door.

"What's the matter, Mrs. Brown?" inquired a neighbor.

"Oh, I don't know what to do!" was the reply. "Bill's away at the football match."

"Well, what about that?" said the other.

"Ah," responded Mrs. Brown, "you don't know Bill! When his side wins he gets on the loose, and when they lose he comes home and whacks me. They've played a draw today, and I'm sure I don't know what he'll do this time!"—London Express.

Variety.

"I can't see why you don't like hotel life," said Mrs. Gramercy. "It relieves a woman of all her cares and gives her so much spare time. Now, honestly, don't you find that home cooking becomes rather monotonous?"

"Not at all," replied Mrs. Park. "Why, my dear, we have a new cook every few weeks."

Fair Offer.

"Can you tell me how to live 100 years?"

The philosopher stroked his beard thoughtfully. "I will try," he said, "if you can give any good reason for wanting to live 100 years."—Philadelphia Record.

Earlier Yet.

Clubman—I understand, sir, that you began life as a newsboy? Guest of the Evening—I fear some one has been fooling you. I began life as an infant. —Philippine Gossip.

Avalanches.

There are avalanches of different kinds, but when the term "avalanche" is used it is generally supposed to apply to falls of great bodies of snow or ice, says Mr. Edward Whymper in the London Strand Magazine. One of the first occasions of this kind which attracted attention took place in 1820, upon Mont Blanc, and it is commonly called the Hamel accident. Dr. Hamel, a Russian, set out on Aug. 18 to go up Mont Blanc, accompanied by two Englishmen and eight guides. They had ascended to a height of more than 14,000 feet, with five guides in front, who were cutting or making steps, when all at once the snow above them gave way, and the members of the party were carried down a thousand feet or more over the slopes up which they had toiled. Snow again broke away above and more or less covered them. Some of them struggled out, but three of the leading guides were hurled into a crevasse and buried under an immense mass of snow. The bodies of these men reappeared at the foot of the glacier thirty years afterward.

CITY TRUSTEES RECEIVE BUT ONE PROPOSAL FOR GAS PLANT BONDS AT SIERRA MADRE.

But one bid was received last night for the $30,000 worth of municipal gas plant bonds to be issued by the City of Sierra Madre, whereat the city trustees and others who have kept a close watch on the proceedings find much cause for wonderment. The one bid was for the par value of the bonds, together with accrued interest from April 1, the date of the bonds. No action was taken, but the one lonely bid will probably be rejected.—Sierra Madre News.

If you cannot call at the office please call Sunset 501 or Home 684.

ROSE PARTY.

Miss Ida M. Waite and Miss Agnes A'Hearne entertained with a rose party, Saturday, at their apartments on the corner of Glendale avenue and Third street. The rooms were artistically decorated with fragrant roses. Over the table hung masses of Marie Henriette roses with foliage to suggest the pink and green color scheme and from the bright flowers tinkled the musical wind-bells so cleverly concealed in their hiding places. The menu was also carried out in pink and green and roses designated the places.

Our columns are open for news of any kind. Call us up not later than 3:30 p. m. of any Thursday. Phones Sunset 501 or Home 684.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE VALLEY

A Good Bunch of Items, Business, Social, Personal and Otherwise

WAKE UP, MAN!

By the Eagle Rock Boosters' League. Wallace Tupper—Lester Edwards.

Tell us, are you advertising
In the same old foolish way
That your grand-dad did before you,
And persist, "It doesn't pay?"

Think the whole world knows your Address,
"'Cause it hasn't changed in years"
Why the pathos of such logic
Drives a billygoat to tears.

"Just a card" is all you care for
Hidden, lonesome and unread,
Like the sign upon a tombstone
Telling folks that you are dead.

Wake up, man, and take a tonic,
Bunch your hits and make a drive,
Run a page, and change your copy
ADVERTISE and keep alive,

Two Bits of Wood.

Importance cannot be reduced to a matter of size. The success of a piece of work may depend on a tiny detail. Such is the case in regard to that marvel of construction, the violin. Rev. H. R. Haweis in his "My Musical Life" tells of the care and labor expended on two little pieces of wood which go to make up the perfect whole. The sound bar is a strip of pine wood running obliquely under the left foot of the bridge. A slight mistake in its position, looseness or inequality or roughness of finish will produce that hollow, teeth on edge growl called "wolf." It takes great cunning and a life of practical study to know how long and how thick the sound bar must be and exactly where to place it in each instrument. The sound post is a little pine prop, like a short bit of cedar pencil. It is the soul of the violin, and through it pours all vibrations. Days and weeks are spent in adjusting the tiny sound post. Its position exhausts the patience of the maker and makes the joy or the misery of the player.

PASSING OF A NOTABLE WOMAN.

As the shadows grew long Sunday evening, Mrs. Adelaide James, bade farewell to her daughter and family, Mrs. A. M. Watson and as a tired child falls asleep passed away to her immortal life.

With the passing of Mrs. James a life chapter replete with pioneer days and thrilling incidents of not only California but of Australia was closed. Mrs. James was born in England over 80 years ago, and at an early age with her parents came to Ohio, where she received every advantage in a school and college education.

Following her marriage to Mr. James they went to Melbourne, Australia, in 1863, when they journeyed to the North of Queensland where Mr. James established a large shipping station. Mrs. James was the first white woman to make the long journey to the North of Queensland. They remained there ten years and aided materially in the growth of that new country, as highly cultured pioneers, as were Mr. and Mrs. James, could well do. In 1873 Mr. and Mrs. James came to Oakland, California, and there remained until after the earthquake and fire of San Francisco in 1906. Mrs. James could well be termed a pioneer of California as well as of Australia. At the time of the San Francisco disaster Mrs. James, who was then at an advanced age, was ill and the shock so wrought upon her that she never rallied. Mrs. A. M. Watson, her daughter, who then resided in Los Angeles, brought her mother to Tropico, where the quiet and rest of this place added to her comfort. The remains were cremated Tuesday and the ashes taken to Oakland and placed beside those of her husband and daughter.

TROPICO METHODIST ITEMS.

By Rev. J. H. Henry.

We had a good day last Sunday in all departments with a number of new scholars in the Sunday school. The lesson was taken up with much zeal. After the sermon at 11 o'clock in the morning the general benevolences of the church were presented and without any particular methods the people responded with such promptness that in about ten minutes nearly the whole amount of the deficiency was subscribed.

Next Monday evening Rev. Charles E. Locke, pastor of the First Methodist church of Los Angeles will deliver a lecture, "A Pilgrimage to the Shrines of American Patriotism," in our church at Tropico. The admission price to this lecture is ridiculously small for such a presentation, being 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children, and does not begin to represent what the lecture is worth. Mr. Locke is giving his services without any charge whatever and the proceeds of the evening will go toward the church expenses.

DINNER AT "QUINTA ANA"

Mrs. Anna Smith entertained with a dinner party at her home, "Quinta Ana," Monday, complimentary to her houseguests, Mrs. S. A. Kendall and Miss Grace Kendall of Myersdale, Pa. Dainty rose buds, gathered in the rose garden of "Quinta Ana," adorned the table. Covers were laid for Mrs. Kendall, Miss Grace Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stillman, Jefferson, Ia., Mrs. Dorothy Beard Johnson, Butte, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beard, Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dawes, Long Beach.

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

By Rev. Henderson C. Shoemaker.

A large audience gathered at the Presbyterian church to hear Mrs. Van Meter last Sunday evening and none were disappointed, for the address was excellent. Mr. Morgan favored the congregation with a vocal solo.

The pastor will speak next Sunday morning, using as a subject, "Waiting On the Lord." At the evening service he will answer three questions, viz.: "Why was it necessary for Christ to be born?" "Is the new birth necessary? If so, why?" "Can the merely moral man be saved?"

TROPICO SCHOOL CENSUS

G. W. Stroebel has completed taking the Tropico school district census. Washington Park school district, which was recently taken from the southern part of the Tropico district, has lessened the number of the latter's census, as Tropico's census shows but 291 children, ranging from the ages of 5 to 17 years. There are 193 families in the district with children of school ages and 300 families who either have no children or whose children do not come under the school age limit.

Old Wheel of Fortune.

In the village church of Comfort, near Pont-Croix, in western Brittany, is a very good specimen of the now rare "wheel of fortune." It is made of wood, with a row of bells on its outer rim and pivoted between a couple of rough beams, altogether very primitive workmanship. By means of a cord attached to a crank the wheels can be made to revolve and set all the bells a-jangling. I have often heard that the peasants believe that it has miraculous power of healing when rung over the head of a sufferer who has placed a sou in the box to which the rope is padlocked. I received remarkable confirmation of this belief, for while making a photograph a well to do sailor's wife and her husband came into the church and looked round. The woman asked me if I thought there could be any truth in this belief, as her child was very backward in learning to talk. Her nurse, who came from those parts, had advised her to bring the baby and ring the bells of Comfort over his head, when he would be sure to talk. As she was passing she had looked in to see if it was worth trying! —London Chronicle.

The Smooth Way.

In the last generation Tyler Cobb, Esq., was a well known citizen of North Bridgewater, now Brockton, Mass. He was famous throughout Plymouth county for his witty retorts and dry humor.

Never having taken a sea trip, Mr. Cobb one day conceived the idea of making a voyage to New York. Accordingly he sailed from Boston in a small schooner. The first day out a storm was encountered and Mr. Cobb became violently sick, but after several hours he mustered up courage and strength to look out upon the troubled waters.

As he looked from the side of the little ship up the trough of the sea it seemed very smooth to him. The captain's cutting of the waves was senseless, he told himself. But as this mad steering continued the unhappy passenger finally crawled out on hands and knees to where the captain stood at the wheel and, raising his voice above the din of waves and wind, shouted:

"Man, man, keep in the ruts, keep in the ruts!"

Worked It Off.

Just what may happen to a man who isn't strictly honest was illustrated on a street car a few days ago. A man handed the conductor a dollar and asked for a strip of tickets. He received his five tickets, and then the conductor fumbled around for change and managed to make a "mistake." He handed the man two half dollars instead of 75 cents. The man put away the money without saying a word and in a couple of minutes worked his way to the front of the car and got off. "Say, conductor," said an interested observer, "did you know you didn't give that man the right change?" The conductor smiled complacently. "That's all right," he said. "If he'd been honest and returned that bad half dollar I'd have given him a good quarter for it. I've been trying to get rid of that piece of money for a week. I guess he deserved to get stung."—Philadelphia Record.
